
Is This You?

"We have cost-cut everything - vendor contracts, salaries, head-count. I have outsourced all that I can. It's still not enough. We need to do something different that will work - that is targeted for the soft spots in our financials. What can we do differently that will work?"
-CFO of grocery store

"Our business model must change. Our outdated revenue model is not working, and our new competitors are having a field day. What can we do to be more effective? What can we use from other industries who have gone through this life-cycle?"
-CIO of service Provider Company

"Our IT department can't keep up with the demand. I don't want to outsource to India. How can we act like a low-cost provider from the US?"
-CEO of data services company
